Dear Parent/Carer

Mock SATs week starting 24th January

As you will be aware your child will be taking their SATs test in May. Next week we will be having a mock test week so that the children can experience the format and style of the assessments. This also allows us to check on any gaps in their knowledge and ensure they are exceptionally well prepared for the real assessments.

We are very clear that this is not something that should cause the children any concern. It is a brilliant way to celebrate all that they have achieved already this year. We will be recognising that this is a special week for the children in a number of ways. Firstly, we will bring the children into class and everyone will have some toast setting them up for a busy morning! There will also be break time changes to ensure that the children get plenty of air and a chance to run off their energy in between assessments.

Once the assessments are completed we will be sharing the children's results with you and giving you strategies to use when addressing any gaps the tests identify.

Tuesday 24th January

English grammar, punctuation and spelling Paper 1: Questions

English grammar, punctuation and spelling Paper 1: Spelling

Wednesday 25th January

English Reading

Thursday 26th January

Maths Paper 1: Arithmetic

Maths Paper 2: Reasoning

Friday 27th January

Maths Paper 2: Reasoning

As a team we are very aware that these assessments will tell us something about your children however, it doesn't tell us everything! We continue to celebrate all that Y6 contribute to our community aside from their English and Maths skills.

We are already proud of our wonderful Y6 and look forward to sharing this week with them. As ever if we can provide any further information please contact reception.

Best wishes,

Alex Dadge
